Conservation Stressed

LOS ANGELES.—In a bulletin to all location owners in Los Angeles County the Associated Operators of L. A. County has asked aid in helping operators conserve gasoline, tires, parts, and eliminate un-necessary service calls in cooperation with the War Program.

'Try to do away with unnecessary trips for your operator-calls for nickels, calls for an electric bulb, etc. We are asking you to use your discretion in putting in a service call for your operator-and perhaps two or three things can be attended to in one service call," said the bulletin in part. Explanation was further given that manufacturers can still sell the operator necessary service parts for marble games but cannot replace their depleted stock by additional manufacturing. This fact should, in itself, be a warning to all to make an effort to conserve that which will add to the life of all vital parts.

Donates Huge Scrap Pile

CHICAGO.—There was considerable hub-bub here the middle of July when a mountain of heavy, expensive metal in-nards of thousands of uncompleted mechanisms for vending and amusement machines was dumped into the nation's scrap pile by Mills Novelty Co. An estimated 800 to 1000 tons comprised the donation which was valued at approximately $500,000.

S. F. Members Warned

SAN FRANCISCO.—In a special bulletin on July 28th Sidney Mackin, managing director of the Amusement Merchants' Association, Inc., pointed out that the mere purchase of the $50.00 Stamp Tax does not make a gambling machine legal in California.

"The fact that the Federal Government has a $50.00 tax classification for pin ball machines being operated on a payout basis does in no way whatsoever change the requirements or provisions of Section 330-a of the Penal Code of the State of California. Section 330-a makes payout opera-tion of any equipment illegal in this state, and anyone operating equipment illegally is subject to arrest," the bulletin explained.

Members of the Association are provided with gummed stickers reading "This Machine Is For Amusement Purposes Only. Positively No Awards or Prizes Given as a Result of the Operation Thereof. Member—Amusement Merchants Ass'n., Inc."
The Association insists that "the spirit and the letter of the 'Amusement Only' sticker be conformed with at all times.

New Coin Magnetic

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Giving due consideration to the hundreds of thousands of coin-controlled vending machines in the nation which rely upon the magnetic content of the present five cent piece to ward off thieves who would defraud the ma-chines, the United States Treasury has ordered that the new five cent coin contain just enough electrolytic manganese to provide the magnetic quality.

New coin, made of half copper and half silver with the manganese mentioned above, will replace the nickel coin now in circulation and will be minted until December 1,

Tax Bill Pendina

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(Special to The Review) The Senate Committee, handling the huge tax bills introduced, is still tussling with the coin machine section of the 1942 Revenue Bill.

The Senate Finance Committee will spend some time with the revenue bill, of which the coin machine section is a small part, and more than 250 requests to testify will be honored as time per-

Following the action of the Committee the bill must go back to the Senate for debate, amendments, and a vote.

Amendments already approved by the house include a $10.00 per year tax on automatic phonographs and penny vendors which dispense a prize not in excess of a 5c value.

As matters now stand marble game has matters now stand marble game locations which redeem free plays will be required to pay a tax of $50.00 per fiscal year. Marble game operators should wire or write their Senators NOW to amend Section 617 of the 1942 Revenue Bill, House Resolution 7378, for a tax not exceeding $20.00 per year on free plays.

Penny Coin-Operated Counter Game operators who have machines issuing prizes can support an amendment proposed some months ago by writing or wiring your Senator to amend the 1942 Revenue Bill, House Resolution 7378, Section 617, to read as follows: "Penny Coin-Operated Counter Games, incorporating amusement or gaming features, which entitle persons playing to receive merchandise prizes, not exceeding in value one package of cigarettes, shall be classified under section (1) RATE, $10.00 annual tax."

In writing and wiring Senators, or members of the House, The Review suggests wires be brief and statements quick and to the point. Reference should be made to the bills in transit, sections, etc.

Meeting Clarifies Tax

LOS ANGELES.—At a special meeting of the Associated Operators of Los Angeles County at the North Star Auditorium on July 25th, Managing Director Curley Robinson gave a lengthy discussion of the rulings of the Internal Revenue Department applicable to free play marble games and explained the necessity of filing reports before the deadline of July 31st.

Speaking of reliefs won for the operators, Robinson said: "On June 12, 1942, the Treasury Department in Washington, through the Deputy Commissioner in charge of miscellaneous taxes, issued a larifaction of the ruling governing the clarification of the rulings governing the rate of tax payable on pinball machines as follows: 'The Bureau holds that pinball machines which deliver cash or tokens to the player, or where the location owner redeems unused free plays, or where he offers prizes to anyone making certain scores, come within the purport and scope of the gaming device definition.' This ruling makes all pinball machines operated as outlined in the ruling subject to the $50 federal tax. This ruling was also held everyone's got a nickel for BROTHER BILL On Columbia: CHARLIE SPIVAK by the Bureau to be retroactive to October 1, 1941.

"In order to obtain relief from the ruinous conditions which might result from this enormous tax and the retroactive feature, your Association met with the Bureau in Los Angeles and obtained the following decision: 'If you relied in good faith on your interpretation of the ruling, to-wit: that pinball machines with the respect to which the location owner redeems unused free play, were considered to be amuse-ment and not gaming devices, no liability for gaming device special tax will be asserted for any period prior to the first day of the month in which you were first notified of a gaming device liability.'

"Inasmuch as the first official notification was June 12 it would follow that operators and locations would be liable also for the month of June but upon further discussion the Bureau representative, W. L. Miller, stated that the entire tax would not be retroactive prior to the first day of July,

"Under the law as it now stands the $50 fee is due and payable, as of July 31, 1942, for the Federal fiscal year ending July, 1943. Penalties for not conforming are 5 per cent a month for 5 months and an additional penalty as the Commissioner may see fit to impose.

On July 24th, AOLAC notified all location owners of the $50 tax and the penalties for non-compliance.

What Is Gambling?

A DISCUSSION BY
"CURLEY" ROBINSON

Managing Director, Associated Operators of L. A. County

Gambling is a relative term which is very loosely used. In its ordinary sense it is used to denote the winning or losing of money or other valuable things upon hazard or chance; although there are many transactions which have the earmarks of winning or losing and yet which are quite innocently looked upon as every day business transactions. These will be explained a little later in this article.

The origin of gambling is an unsolved question. Thomas Hyde, in his Syntagma records his opinion that the original game which has now been transformed into the game of dice, was first played as a game of "odd and even" with pebbles and this was really the beginning of the game of dice. Although a little later on a new game known as "knucklebones" which bore a great similarity to dice was evolved.

Records disclose that Sophocles ascribed the invention of knucklebones to Palamedes, a Greek, who taught them to his countrymen during the siege of Troy, and who, according to Pausanias, made an offering of them on the altar of the temple of fortune. Herodotus relates that the Lydians during the period of famine in the days of King Atys invented "dice", "knucklebones" and indeed all other games except chess. The fact that dice have been used throughout the orient from time immemorial has been proven by the excavations from ancient tombs which seems to point clearly to Asiatic origin.

Gambling with dice was a very popular form of amusement in Ancient Greece, especially among the upper classes. The dice were cast from conical beakers and the highest thrown, 3 sixes always won, while the lowest thrown was three aces. The Romans were passionate gamblers especially during the luxurious days of the Roman empire and dicing was their favorite form of amusement. Nero and Claudius were passionately fond of gambling and the latter wrote a book on it.

bling and the latter wrote a book on it.

History records that even the North American Indians as early as 1636 played with dice, and Father Brebeuf gives long accounts of the game played by these Indians.

In England, various forms of gambling were recognized from the early days and from 1793 to 1824 the English Lottery was everyone's got a nickel for BROTHER BILLOn Bluebird: TONY PASTOR

a recognized method of obtaining money for the Crown; the sum of 346,765 pounds was realized during this period.

Even in this country the Louisiana Lottery was recognized as a source of revenue; however many states have banned gambling, lotteries and other forms of gambling with the exception of the State of Nevada which has a population of a little over 100,000, where legalized gambling is permitted bling is permitted.

In all of the other states, gambling has to a more or less degree been suppressed by legislation, but certain transactions are indulged in every day under the guise of legitimate business transactions which, upon careful scrutiny, are but a modified form of gambling which the result is the same, to-wit: someone wins while another loss.

The Supreme Court of the State of California, in an early decision which has never been reversed said that "Draw Poker" was an innocent and amusing game and classified this game in the same class as Checkers or Chess.

Now what are stock market transactions but when carefully analysed, are really gambling transactions. The law draws a very fine distinction as to these transactions compared with gambling, but this distinction is merely an artificial one. When stocks are purchased on the open market, and the buyer intends to take actual delivery (whether he actually does or not does not matter), this is regarded not to be a gambling transaction. But how many people purchasing stocks contemplate taking actual delivery. The great majority of them actually buy to make a profit on the rising market and sometimes sell five or ten minutes later even before an actual record is made of their purchase.

The same is true of the person who buys "on the short market" which is merely a case of a person selling so many shares of stock which he does not own, and then buying an equal number of shares when they have gone lower, so he can fill the order for delivery; he has sold at a higher price and then bought in at a lower price and made his profit. This can only be done, however, on a falling market. Yet this is not called gambling in business parlance—it is given the puritan name of "stock trading". If, perchance, the stock which he has sold does not drop, but on the contrary rises, the seller is compelled to buy on a rising market and thereby suffers a loss, since he has no control over the market any more than a patron can control the spin of a roulette wheel.

The insurance company gambles with the insured upon a contingency that he will have paid into the company at least as much as they would be called upon to pay to his beneficiary at his death; in other words, the company gambles with the insured that he will live long enough for the company to make a profit on their investment in his life.

The farmer gambles when he plants his grain that he will reap a good harvest and that the fruits of his labors will not be despoiled by the elements.

The merchant gambles when he purchases his commodities that he will not lose by the rise and fall of the market over which he has no control, and that his purchases will render him adequate returns.

These are but a few of the uncertainties yet, hazards, which go to make up every day transactions and which are called legitimate business transactions, but which in reality are nothing more than gambling transactions since they are based upon the unknown-the chance-the hazards, and profits or losses determined thereby.

As already pointed out, gambling originated in the earliest periods of world history. Humans were and still are possessed with that innate desire for gambling. It is natural—it is human. It is just as human as sex. It is the desire to explore the unknown, and no law can curb man's appetite for it. It would be as useless to try to eradicate gambling as it would be to curb man's desires to eat; his desires for sex, or for pleasure. It must be admitted that he who is suppressed is thrice emboldened to do that which he is forbidden.

This was very eloquently demonstrated during the prohibition era when more illicit drinking and more violations of the law took place than in any previous period in the history of the country. During this period of time, more persons were converted to drunkenness and liquor addiction than in any twenty-five years prior to this When a person's desires are entime. joined, he resolves to do just the thing which he is forbidden to do. In other words, it is no more than human nature to defy; if that were not so, there would be no red-blooded humans, but only those who would submit to the lords and dictators to do their bidding.

ever, where our own conscience tells us that certain things are wrong; we heed our conscience more, and if our conscience dictates that certain things are wrong, we refrain from them, but no man made laws contrary to human nature will bend or deter us from our natural desires.

This is especially true when the question of curbing man's natural desires for sex is involved. Sex is instilled into man for the purposes of propagation. It was the will of the Maker, so that man could multiply and propagate the earth. Only an infinitesimal percentage of persons are unfertile, and even in these, sex is the natural desire, to say nothing of those who are fertile. Today, man-made laws have ordained that sex is not to be indulged in except between certain persons who the law says may indulge, while those not in that class are prohibited. Notwithstanding this prohibition, sex has not lost its lure and it would be just as impossible to restrict it to certain classes as it would be to harness Mars. It is man's natural desire-nature has endowed man with this desire.

It is true that indiscriminate sexual relations should be regulated, but not re-stricted to the point of abolishing it altogether, or to confining it to a certain specified class. Sexual relations controlled by the governing body can and should be regulated to a point where it will not affect the general public. It can be segregated to certain districts and under certain conditions. Prostitution dates back from the times of King Solomon and the Pharoahs. It flourished in the ancient days and because medical standards were not what they are today, disease sometimes resulted. However, with improved medical standards today, this can be so regulated that periodic inspection can provide a maximum of benefits. Our daughters and our sisters would then not be molested by those who are too weak to control their natural desire for sex. Abortions would be eradicatedthere would be a minimum of illegitimate children-rape would become unknown and sterilization unnecessary.

This control over prostitution is very forcibly exhibited in the State of Nevada which maintains a certain district where houses of prostitution are permitted to be operated away from the influences of minors and adolescents. They are periodically inspected by State medical officers and regulated so that they do not become a menace to society. They are taxed and such emoluments go to aid in their upkeep applies with equal emphasis to gambling. As I have already stated, one of man's natural desires is to gamble-to take a chance. You cannot suppress his natural desires any more than you can defy any of the other laws of nature. Regulation of gambling such as is maintained by the State of Nevada would not only insure against surreptitious gambling, but would also maintain it on a level without injury to the person participating in it. Regulate it and you can control it. License it and you can supervise it. By these methods only can you correct the abuse that is now prevalent and at the same time solve the problems of incorrigibility, idleness, unproductiveness and crimes.

COIN MACHINE REVIEW

Excise Tax Take Huge

WASHINGTON-Federal excise tax on coin machines for the month of June amounted to a total of $710,111.87, ac-cording to figures released by the Internal Revenue Bureau on July 24th.

This amount does not represent the total that the Federal Government will collect from the operations of coin-controlled devices for the grace period on tax payments for the new fiscal year did not expire until July 31st.

Monarch Has The Games

CHICAGO-Al Stern, Monarch Coin Machine Company official, reports that recent additions to stock make the present Monarch supply of games the most diversified in company history.

"Our unceasing efforts to make a wide variety of good equipment available to our customers have reflected greatly to the advantage of coinmen everywhere," Stern said. "In spite of the fact that we offer equipment of a high quality that is practically unmatched elsewhere, we are maintaining a strict policy with regard to prices. Machines that might be sold without question for a high price are offered at our self-imposed ceiling prices, making them the country's outstanding values. While such action with regard to holding prices down may be violating the law of supply and demand to some extent, we are getting our reward in satisfied customers who repeat and who form an automatic pool from which we can replenish our stocks with games that have served their purpose on the original locations.

"The circle begun by our sale of games at low prices is a round robin of good-will activity involving operators and Monarch, and it circumvents the possibility of game shortages.'

Splendid Results

"No doubt you will be pleased to learn of the splendid response we received from the last display ad which appeared in the COIN MACHINE REVIEW. We received numerous orders for samples of the 'Siamese Rats' units and many operators have re-ordered in quantity as the result of the samples they received."

"Siamese Rats" Click

SAN ANTONIO, Texas-The most hated men in the world are today making money for smart operators who have adapted the "Siamese Rats" to their Chicken Sam operations.

The "Siamese Rats" is a clever double wooden composition figure showing Hitler on one side and Hirohito on the other. It reverses as the machine operates and the figure, legs and scenery provided, are processed in sixteen colors.

The entire idea is that of Harold W. Thompson of this city who is working far into the night to rush these conversion units to operators in all parts of the country who have sensed their earning power through tests made on their own equipment.

Said Thompson, "No doubt you are aware of the fact that several conversion units have been offered for Chicken Sam and Jailbird machines, but the 'Siamese Rats' unit has proven very outstanding over all other similar units. As a matter of fact, we have received information from operators where they replaced their Jap conversion unit with a 'Siamese Rats' unit, it more than doubled the play.'

CHICAGO, ILLS. 4233 W. LAKE ST Ph: Van Buren 6636

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Opinions polled among members of the coin machine industry in this area have pointed to an overwhelming favorable assent to the new set up inaugurated recently, providing for the telescoping of the regular monthly meetings of the Associated Phonograph Owners of St. Louis and the Missouri Amusement Machine Association. The identity of interests of the two groups along with the fact that a considerable number of St. Louis operators hold membership in both organizations makes the new arrangement entirely logical. The first hour of the meeting is used to conduct all business relevant to the phonograph side of the industry and the next hour is given over to the transaction of business pertaining to pintables and other coin operated equipment. When these two one hour sessions are finished the membership of both groups join in a round table discussion of legislation, restrictions, conservation, route management and how to help win the war. Heretofore it meant for many the budgeting of time so as to allow for two nights a month for meetings. Under this new system all the business can be transacted and information exchanged among members of the entire industry on the one meeting night. Hot weather and the lack of any business of an emergency nature caused the postponement of the meeting that was scheduled for late July . . . attesting to the smoothness that has characterized coin machine circles here lately.

Operators and distributors of this area in ever increasing numbers are turning to the reconditioning of equipment in an effort to prevent loss of revenue that inevitably results when an injection of new interests is not provided by new models. They are being constantly surprised at the marvelous transformation that takes place when a piece of equipment is expressly reconditioned. One firm here sends pintables back to the factory for remodeling in twenty-five unit batches and in a short time has this amount of equipment looking and operating like brand new.

Take phonograph remodeling. . . . Bill

Betz of the W-B Novelty Co. has set up a service shop that makes an old model phonograph look like a million dollars. He has one department that specializes in paint jobs. Using the best of materials and tools this department turns out an average of one a day providing locations with new life with the installation of one of these reworked models. The marked success enjoyed by the above mentioned firms with their aggressive reconditioning plans points the way for others who have been debating the relative merits of remodeling and reconditioning old equipment.

Arcade management is occupying a place in the spotlight these days with the opening in widely scattered sections of the city of three new arcades. One is located on North Grand Boulevard, one is downtown in the heart of the business district and the other, the most pretentious of the three, is at Delmar and De Balivere. This latter is op-erated by Harry Davies of the Davies Novelty Co. and draws from a thickly populated section known as the West End. The arcade has over 150 pieces of equipment besides a shooting gallery and is so arranged into departments that its general appearance is both striking and inviting. All nickel machines are set for two cent play, guns are two cent play and pin games are set at one cent without replays. Since its opening recently this arcade has done a very satisfactory business and Davies is well satisfied with the move his firm has made.

Jack Nelson, general manager of Rock-Ola, visited in St. Louis and southern Illinois recently calling upon operators and distributors and generally keeping in contact with the trade.

struck Earl Bowman of the McCall Novelty Co. recently. His wife was driving the family car from California and when she was going through Colorado it happened. The thief took three of the tires, the best three, leaving Mrs. Bowman with two worn shoes to go home on. After shelling out for replacements Mrs. Bowman remarked that she sure would like to see justice done. Earl grinningly remarked, "They used to hang a man out West in the good old days for stealing a person's transportation."

Virgil J. Bernsen postcards regularly to his old bunch at Davies Novelty Co. telling about army life. Virgil who has been in service for more than a year wrote that he would like a few rounds of golf and a few rounds of 'Bud', there being a seeming shortage of these two activities around Fort Sill where he is stationed.

CHICAGO—Always a popular gathering place for operators, the world famous Buckley headquarters now might be called a 1942 model of the old cross roads days when the Trading Post was the center of activity for the pioneers.

The launching of Buckley Trading Post at 4231 W. Lake Street, Chicago, has given to the operating fraternity the first all-coverage machine and supply service this industry has known.

Discussing the rapid growth of the Trading Post with P. J. Buckley, founder, some interesting sidelights on coin machine service were brought out ice were brought out.

"A Trading Post always is associated with pioneers and since our organization has pioneered some of the operators' biggest successes we felt the homely atmosphere of the Old Trading Post would appeal to them

Old Trading Post would appeal to them.

"We also felt," Buckley went on to say,
"that something more than just a jobbing service was needed. Most every operator, large or small, always has something he would like to sell, or trade. So, with a trading post it was possible to help operators pass on their good workable machines to others while being able to obtain whatever machines they needed on their own routes.

"Another point we were careful to build around was economy in buying. With the war time scarcity of machines we knew that machines would be in big demand and prices considerably higher. In order to help equalize the price level the Trading Post makes it possible to exchange machines between buyer and seller without the burden of extra shipping charges which the jobber has to add on to his price when he stocks machines.

"While thousands of machines on our lists will never pass through a third hand in the exchange because we hook up buyer and seller, nevertheless, we have provided one of the largest and most complete stocks

"One thing the Trading Post has done that should interest lots of the old-time operators, just as it did us; it has revived some of the real old-time machines. New Kansas City Ordinance Completely Legalizes "Free-Play"

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—On July 9th, pin ball tables and marble games were definitely declared by Kansas City, Missouri's City Council to be "Amusement Games". The new ordinance which became effective July 19th stated:

disc or other insertion piece, whether or not also manipulated by the operator, and which operates for the amusement of the operator, whether or not by registering a score.

"The term shall not include slot machines, claw machines, or other machines prohibited by State law; it shall not include machines or devices used bona fide and solely for the vending of food, service, confections or merchandise."

Thus the Kansas City ordinance has set "amusement machines" apart from all other types of equipment—a goal which Hobbies, Inc., has worked for ever since the formation of this local operators' association.

However, the new bill does make a distinction within its newly created bracket between the tables and automatic music machines particularly in the matter of licenses. The per-unit license for the tables is now $10.00 while the phonographs remain at $5.00 per year.

Not so long ago, rumor around Kansas City coin machine circles had it that a $25.00 per unit tax was going on the tables. However, the City Government listened to the operators' side of the story and the new measure was written as presented here. But, the part of the Ordinance which much more interested and cheered-up the operators was not the amount of the new license but the new prestige the ordinance has added to coin machine operation locally.

In the first place, it settles the question of who may operate and who may not operate coin machines from an ownership point of view. This is handled through a free permit issued by the local Welfare Department which is necessary before the coin machine licenses may be purchased. Of course, the idea is to keep all undesirable and fly-by-night elements out of the business locally and thus maintain the prestige the ordinance has afforded the tables by completely legalizing them.

Just how strict Kansas City intends to be regarding who operates Amusement Machines within its borders may be seen by the following paragraph from the ordinance: "No license shall be issued or be effective unless the distributor or exhibitor (operator) shall also have a permit issued by the Director of Welfare. Before issuance of such permit, the Director of Welfare shall cause an investigation to be made of the applicant and the place where the machines are to be exhibited and permit may be refused to any person, firm or corporation who in its previous operation of any place of business has been convicted of maintaining any gambling device, or violation of any other law or ordinance involving moral turpitude or who is maintaining a place of business where disorderly conduct has been frequently prevalent or under such other conditions as set forth. (In previous ordinance.)"

This permit is issued by the Director of Welfare without charge and may be revoked or suspended for any cause for which the permit might have been refused in the first place.

That the City considers Pay-Outs and Free-Plays two entirely different types of equipment is made very clear by the Ordinance which states:

"No license shall be issued for any coin operated amusement device which is so constructed as to make possible either directly or by the use of an adjustment, the return of cash, tickets, discs or other tokens or certificates of any kind to a player operating the same, whether or not such tokens or certificates have a value of any kind. Only machines operated exclusively for the amusement provided by the operation thereof shall be licensed and no machine shall return and no exhibitor shall offer or give any reward or thing of value as a reward for the making of any score or accomplishing any result in the playing of such machine, except that as a reward for his skill, the player may be given free games."

The second line which the ordinance draws between phonographs and other "amusement" machines is in placement near schools. Only music can be operated within 300 feet of any elementary school and the ordinance prohibits persons under 16 years of age from playing the tables regardless of where they are located.

sent of the Director of Welfare may transfer the license with the machine to a new owner.

Another prestige factor in the new measure is that which requires that all coin operated amusement premises shall be open to the inspection of the Welfare and Police Departments at all times.

Quite frankly the ordinance takes the view long expressed by local coin machine operators in the manner of whether or not a Free-play game is a gambling machine. It has always been a widely accepted contention that any game may be turned by anyone to gambling purposes but that amusement tables offer no more incentive to gamble than football or croquet.

In explaining the complete legalizing of the machine the measure states: "Sections 9-1.1 to 9-1.16 hereof are declared to have been enacted pursuant to the power of the City to impose licenses upon occupations and whereas amusement vending machines may potentially be used as gambling devices, said sections are enacted also pursuant to the police power of the City."

That the city intends to co-operate with local operators in developing and maintaining the type of Free-Play management which it desires is brought out by a new section of the ordinance which allows the operator five days to comply with what either the Commissioner of Licenses or Director of Welfare may consider a violation of this code.

FOR AUGUST 1942

SEATTLE

SEATTLE.—The rubber—or what there is left of it—was slapping against the macadam, and old Sol was smiling all over the sky. We were driving the General Motors fugitive along Eastlake Avenue toward the University Bridge, squinting out the window for signs of a quick remedy for parched throat, when we spotted it: a neat, cozy little tavern set off the main street. A bright neon sign read: "Red Robin."

In less time than it takes to push the plunger of a coin game, we were straddling a stool and calling for the amber fluid. The lady behind the counter turned briskly and scooped up a glass. And then she stopped and looked at us—and gave out with that wide, warm smile that used to knock sales resistance for a loop in the days when sales resistance stood like Gibralter before the cash register. Maybel Dace, the woman who guided the sales rudder of Harper-Meggee's record department to giddy heights, looked a lot different from the cool, slack-attired Maybel Dace who was dispensing frothy glasses across the shiny bar.

After twenty years in the disc business, nine of them as record manager at Harper-Meggee, Maybel yearned for the pause that relaxes and also a chance to help her husband, who owns the Red Robin. So a couple of months ago, she reluctantly turned her back to Discland and is now happily ensconced at Hubby's side.

Once past the foam, the liquid wasn't bad, so we talked and sipped and talked. As the beverage flowed, along with the words, we couldn't help but marvel at the wonderful perspective Maybel Dace was now able to commandeer. For years she had listened to the problems of the operator from a jobber's perch. Now she was a location owner and had a birds-eye-view of their position. Where do most music operators err? Do they fall down on service or record selection—or what? And how about jobbers? Have they an accurate picture of the operator and his needs and the location he serves?

The ray of light knifed through the old cranium. We started talking fast. Before the last syllable had died, we had scored a ten-strike for Review readers. We signed Maybel Dace to guest column the September issue. Maybel was told to shoot the works, to write about anything and everything, to draw on the reservoir of her vast experience, and not to pull any punches. So while she rolls up her sleeves and walks to the typewriter, here's a friendly tip to our readers: Reserve your September copy today. It'll be a corker.

"Hit Parade" Champions

NEW YORK-What popular songs has America liked best during the seven years of CBS' "Your Hit Parade"? Barry Wood, singing star of the program, lists the alltime favorites—the songs chosen number one by the public during the years the show has been on the air.

The musical comedy tune which placed most frequently was Jerome Kern's All the Things You Are, which appeared on the program 11 times during the winter of

The all-time motion picture number was Harold Arlen's Over the Rainbow, which was sung by Judy Garland in Wizard of Oz.

Most-played novelties: A-Tisket A-Tasket, The Merry-Go-Round Broke Down and the Woodpecker Song,

Most-played song adapted from the classics was Larry Clinton's My Reverie from Debussy.

Composer most represented in the program since the first broadcast was Irving

Today's champion on the program is Jingle, Jangle, Jingle, which, incidentally, is the best selling record of Barry Wood's

Excelsior Records Debuts

HOLLYWOOD — Excelsior Record Co., fathered by Otis Rene, who has had considerable experience in the tune-writing, producing and recording field, announced their first record release in early August. Firm intends to record and promote original tunes and all will feature colored artists. Rene will be remembered as the originator of the famous Sing Bands of a few years

As the first release Rene has a disc featuring Herb "Flamingo" Jeffries who was the featured vocalist for Duke Ellington and the star of the production "Jump For Joy." Title of the tune is At Least You Could Save Me A Dream. Ditty is a haunting one and seems to be tailor-made for automatic phonograph use. Backing up is the Eddie Beal Trio doing String Foo-

Gutshall Cabinet Clicks

LOS ANGELES-These are busy days at the Jack Gutshall Distributing Co., for operators are coming in, examining, planking their dough on the line, and carting off the new Twin-12 Replacement Cabinet to their favorite spots. Following the initial announcement in the July REVIEW the wheels started to spin and now Jack is getting down early each morning to take care of

Jack has a "dressed-up" model of the cabinet which looks like a million dollars and is available for a small piece of change

The Replacement Cabinet is designed to take care of a twin-12 mechanism, a 20 or 24-record mechanism. Installations are easy to make and access is provided from the front as well as the rear. Cabinet is acoustically treated.

Government Sues Petrillo as AFM Chief Stands Pat on August 1 Recording Ban

NEW YORK—The United States Department of Justice has filed an injunction suit against James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, under the anti-trust laws to prevent the union and its president from prohibiting union members from making recordings for radio, automatic phonographs and other non-private use.

Action followed Petrillo's refusal to amend his August Ist order stopping all record making by union musicians. Petrillo contends that 550 of the 800 radio stations in the country employ no union musicians, and that 8,000 to 9,000 musicians could be employed in restaurants, night clubs and other locations that now rely on automatic phonographs. Admitting that members of the AFM received $3,000,000 annually from recording royalties, he emphasized that they were losing $100,000,00 in potential employment because of "canned music."

In late July Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, appealed to Petrillo to "reconsider" his ultimatum on patriotic grounds, providing the union's militant $46,000 a year chief with a face-saving opportunity for postponing his recording ban for the duration.

"I am informed," the OWI director wrote, "that if you enforce this edict three direct consequences will be the elimination of new electrical transcriptions for the use of radio stations, the elimination of new popular records for so-called 'juke and the elimination of new popular and classical records for home consumption.

I am further informed that this move in all probability will lead to court fights, possible strikes, and definitely curtail musical service to the public in the critical months ahead-months which may well decide the fate of this country's war effort.

"Since several hundred small, independent stations which are cooperatinng wholeheartedly with the government in the war effort depend for their major sustenance on electrical transcriptions, your order may well force them out of business and thus seriously interfere with the communication of war information and messages vital to the public security.

"Since, as you say yourself, 'music is today one of the finest media for maintaining high public morale, the elimination of records for use in restaurants, canteens and soda parlors where members of the armed forces go for recreation, and for use in factories where war workers use juke-boxes for organized recreation, can scarcely fail to have a negative effect on morale.

"Therefore, on behalf of the people of the United tSates and on behalf of the War Department, the Navy Department, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Treasury Department, the Office of Civilian Defense, and the Office of War Information, I sincerely urge that you consider it your patriotic duty to stand by your pledge of Dec. 27, 1941, and withdraw your ultimatum of June 25, 1942. Sincerely, Elmer Davis, Director of War Information."

The anti-trust action followed when the Davis appeal went unheeded. In industry circles the anti-trust action was entirely unexpected because the United States Supreme Court had several years ago refused to uphold a union conviction gained by Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold in the "hod carrier case" which was based on the principle that a union could not force employment of unneeded workers.

Regardless of the outcome it seems quite certain that there will not be a shortage of records for some months to come. It is known that not only do the wax firms have a large back-log, but that in the past month they have been recording at a frantic rate. One recording executive told a REVIEW reporter that he was ready with all the tunes that will be released through January, while he has a three year supply of classics. Much the same holds true for all record companies, who have tried to work out schedules of releases with the big publishing houses, and have had every band under contract in for at least one recording session. One of the Big Three has over twenty discs by each of its two top bands, which at normal release rates should last them over nine months.

Within the union itself there is considerable dissatisfaction with the stand taken by Prexy Petrillo and many of the topflight bands are plenty hopped up about losing a badly needed source of revenue now that road dates are taking a walloping. In Hollywood one veteran record songster passed the comment that if the union persists he will turn in his card and hundreds will fol-

Evidence of dissatisfaction of the public at large has een voiced editorially in countless newspapers from coast-to-coast. Said one paper: "Certainly large numbers of men are out of work in music, but legislating against the automatic phonograph is like having a taxi company pass legisla-tion to keep people from walking, or hav-ing the telephone company try to abolish the post offices. Automatic phonographs, traveling bands, and what they imply have proved their worth—the public wants them and should get them. And quite frankly, they are responsible for a higher level of musicianship than was ever to be found in the old days of the supreme authority of the local and its officers.

Summed up, it is evident that the battle lines have been drawn for a nasty fight with Prexy Petrillo and his none-too-sympathetic membership on the unpopular side of the fence.

Topeka Sets Licenses

TOPEKA, Kansas-A $5.00 per year license fee has been placed on automatic phonographs by the City Commission. Heretofore the machines were license free.

Marble tables, out of the city for four years, have been restored to operation with a tax of $10.00 per table, per year. Vending machines operating on a dime or more will be assessed $5.00 per year, and vendors operating on less than ten cents draw a $2.00 license. Penny Arcades will be issued a license at $50.00 per year.

Girls At Rock-Ola Plant

CHICAGO.—Most of the front page of the metropolitan section of the Tribune for July 19th was given over to a story on how 3,000 girls will soon be at work at the huge plant of the Rock-Ola Manufacturing Corp. making weapons of war for their husbands and sweethearts in the front line trenches.

Piece was embellished with seven photos showing comely young gals operating various pieces of intricate machinery.

Record Maker Shelved

CHICAGO—How a $50,000 machine—an elaborate affair reminiscent of a cartoonist's imagination-was walled up for the duration by Rock-Ola Mfg. Corp., was revealed here Aug. 6th.

The big machine, which daily turned out about 50,000 steel records for home recording, had been in use only 3 months, when the war ended its operation.

The brain child of David C. Rockola, the machine took sheet steel into its intricate mechanism, stamped out round discs, gave them three coatings of a recording lacquer, put them through a baking oven, and finally sent them forth ready to receive record-

SO. CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES—Vacations have been of paramount consideration in the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Coindom of Southern California for the past four weeks. Some sought mountains, some found pleasure at the beaches in the current dim outs (no comments), and some just stayed at home and planted those plants that grow regardless in the magic earth of California.

Harry Winslow loaded up the wife and daughter and left July 20th for his regular visit with the folks near Butte, Montana, and to see if the fishing holes that have been so fertile in years past have been discovered by others. Harry went via Salt Lake and planned the trip so he could get through the hot desert country during the night.

Mansom & MacDonald, who have Arcades down in the Long Beach Pleasure Zone, found a visit worth while to Paul Laymon's establishment recently.

Stanley Turner, former service instructor for Wurlitzer and Packard Products, is now doing his bit for Uncle Sam as foreman in the Electrical Research Co. Stanley took over on July 20th, H. Gorman, who operates the Hip Arcade at Redondo Beach, and

H. Gorman, who operates the Hip Arcade at Redondo Beach, and has a concession or two in travelling carnivals, can tell some yarns about the old-timers. Gorman used to run slots up in the Stockton area when California was the golden state the Chamber of Commerce now advertises in another way. Lately Gorman has been doing not-too-badly with his Arcade at the Beach, although a renegade raft undermined his place, clipped the pilings, and several thousands of dollars worth of automatic equipment dropped into the rocky surf. By the time Gorman got boats down to pick up what was left a six-inch piece of board from a Rock-Ola World's Series seemed to be the main salvage. Gorman is taking it in stride for the insurance lads are digging deep to find the clauses nobody reads.

Paul Butts, from Bakersfield, found some consolation in getting over the hills in late July and found Los Angeles an oasis if there ever was one.

Jack Gutshall's right hand gal, Jane Carico, is now on her two week vacation. Said Jane: "I'll do this one close to home. Heavens knows what might happen." Jane should know!

Ray Thomas advised the operators on July 13th that counter sales will be made on Monday, Wednesday and Friday only, with no deliveries on other days. Well, well!

Elaine Ryan is the new face at Badger Sales. She replaces Lawrence Taylor, who is now in the Office of War Information in Washington. Elaine was formerly with the Music Institute of California.

G. L. (Red) Catlin is happy about the war business his Arcade is doing at Indian Springs.

Ed and Vance Mape were in town during July to check over with head-man L. B. McCreary, ways and means of serving Seeburg operators even better than before.

And at Mape Music we must doff our hats to the sweet receptionist and office manager, Geraldine Douglas, who took the plunge in Yuma, Ariz., on July 5th and came home with C. B. Krausi as hubby. The Review extends every best wish to the couple.

Paul Laymon has had a full share of visitors during the past month. In for new equipment, to chew the fat, and sample the Laymon brand of hospitality were: Ray Reynolds from Big Bear; Harry Gordon from San Diego; Lucille Arnold from Barstow; Lewis Leibee from Hanford and Bishop, and Charles Waite from Phoenix.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlsen, Phoenix, are in town on vacation and enroute to Big Bear.

previous headquarters. At 2845 West Pico Mac intends to care for his customers and use the spot for an operating base.

Percy Shields really tasted heat when he made a delivery of Arcade Equipment down Indio way the last week in July. With 110 in the shade Percy had a tire go out on his trailer and it practically ditched him.

After spending a full month at Big Bear Jack Gutshall believes he's discovered how to get the limit of trout without wasting too much time. Jack invited his secretary, Jane Carico, to accompany him and the missus on a fishing trip at Big Bear recently. Jane didn't expect to fish, but when she saw how exquisitely her employer handled his rod and reel, she asked for a fishing pole of her own. Jack quickly accommodated, and almost as quickly a game warden came by, questioned the party, made threats, raised hell and Jack went into action. Jane quickly acquired a fishing license, and as night fell ... ALL WAS WELL.

Lucille Laymon has enlisted for Canteen Duty for the American Red Cross.

G. M. O'Dell, Radium Springs, New Mexico, visited THE REVIEW on August 10th, and commented on the activity at Radium Springs. O'Dell is the major-domo of the town and owns the hotel, swimming pool, and most of the stores. At present, he states, invalids from all parts of the nation are finding the curative waters of Radium Springs very beneficial. As a result, O'Dell's coin-operated equipment is getting a good play.

Glen Wallichs, g. m. of Capitol Records, returned to Hollywood on the 1st, excited over the reception given Capitol's first two releases from here to the eastern coast.

Russell Smith, head-man at the L. A. office of California Simplex, is back from a month's trip to Chicago. Russell got a taste of hot weather when he fished in Northern Minnesota on the way home. Russell is currently whispering about the new Wurlitzer replacement cabinet.

Arcade Boss Murphy, who has the Arcade at Crestline in the San Bernardino Mountains, and is about ready to open a new Arcade in the Imperial Valley, was in Los Angeles late in July to buy equipment from Percy Shields, and others, for his new spots.

J. A. Ewing, Bakersfield, is back from a trip to Washington, D. C., and New York City.

C. C. Goodson, one of the old-timers in the coin machine business, was in from Pasadena talking over the good old days with Paul Laymon.

Marvin Jones, son of Roy Jones, wellknown music operator, is an air cadet at Santa Ana Air Base.

Nelson Baker, former service man for Paul A. Laymon, is in training at Shepherd Field, Texas. Nelson is in the Technical Ground Training School.

Frank Richards, floor salesman for General Music, can tell 'em taller than anyone we've ever encountered. For example Frank said he was fishing for Bonita and the fish were so thick he couldn't row his boat. AND to top that—Frank tells of a fishing excursion in Alaska where the trout were so plentiful that you could lift them out of the water in your own skillet. All of which moves us to nominate said Richards for membership in the Burlington (Wis.) Liars' Club. We think Richards will fare well on honors.

Robert Fairchild is now in training at San Diego for service in the Navy.

A. S. Beutler, of the Laymon firm, is back from the High Sierras with pictures to prove he really did get what others talk about.

William Rowe, Phoenix, Ariz., picked July as a good time to come West and pick up equipment.

Shelley Surprised

LOS ANGELES-During the first week of August a very bewildered individual, none other than Mr. Shelley of Shelley Radio Co., 'phoned THE REVIEW and said: "My goodness where does your magazine really go? I'm getting tube orders from all over the United States!"

Shelley apparently didn't know that THE REVIEW has the blue ribbon subscription list of operators in the industry from coastto-coast. Even though his tube supplying business must necessarily be confined to serving Music Men in the Western Area during the war months Shelley is appreciative of the national interest and hopes to be able to supply these customers at an early date.

PHILADELPHIA.—There's only one big question on tap right now. What will happen to records after August 1? Will the musicians' union take the rash move which their president threatened? Can the record companies accomplish anything against the musicians? The questions are numberless and the activities intended to combat any detriment to the music machine industry varied, but nothing can be known until late in August.

It is known that the big companies have speeded their pressing and recording activities greatly so as to have new matrixes which can continue to pour out new tunes arranged by Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey, Dinah Shore, Vaughn Monroe and Bing Crosby, even during the period when the musicians halt their members from making new recordings. That means that the entire problem may be settled before it can even affect the operator and the radio station, at which the record activity ban is aimed by the addle-brained directors of the move.

The new Capitol record is making its appearance on some local radio stations and a representative has been visiting operators, but there is apparently no planned local activity since all shipments are being promised as coming from New York.

Former Rosen Co. salesman Eddie Hughes, now a marine at Paris Island, wrote to his friends in civilian life that he received a medal for sharpshooting with the rifle, with the pistol, honorary mention for bayoneting and is middle weight champ of the entire encampment. Still a good man and a follower of Glenn Miller and Carson

Martin Taub, head of the service department for Mutual Music, had a great chest expansion resulting from birth of a girl to his wife.

Operators will have ample time to push some of the old records and comparatively new discs by some of the biggest Victor and Bluebird stars during the month of August when Tommy Dorsey, Sammy Kaye, Alvino Rey and the King Sisters, in addition to the king-of-them all, Glenn Miller, visit the local Earle theatre during the month of August. A special series of promotions for the individual artists will be conducted by Raymond Rosen & Co. Operators will come in for their share of personal benefit from these programs.

First result of this cooperative program between Victor record artists and Raymond Rosen & Co. was a party held for the leading trade-folk at the Ritz-Carlton hotel, Wednesday evening, August 5, in honor of Tommy Dorsey and his bandsmen.

Alvin Gruaer, advertising manager of Gimbel Bros., and a figure well known to all operators because of his cooperation in planning a special operator-Gimbel Bros. fall tie-up, joined the Army on July 29.

The Defense unit of operators and servicemen formed by Jack Cade, who is serving with county headquarters, has already seen some action during the test air-raids and received commendation from local officials.

Because of the blackout regulations limiting activity at the seashore not many penny arcades are operating along the shorelines of Atlantic City. However, ingenious operators have located their quarters just outside of the dimmed-out shore line area and are doing a thriving business with the thousands of soldiers being housed in the thousands of soldiers being hotels taken over by the government.

Biggest smash hit of the year is "I Got A Gal In Kalamazoo" from Glenn Miller's new picture, "Orchestra Wives". It has already caught on swiftly in the manner of Glenn's famous "Chattanooga Choo Choo". Another selection of another style, which is drawing plenty of nickels into the tills, is "Serenade In Blue".

A tune that has received a host of airplugs due to the energetic efforts of Elliott Wexler who first caught its possibilities is "Brother Bill". Though not a sensational "comer" it has definite promise and continues a steady climb upward on the Philly hit parade. The Charley Spivak and Tony Pastor versions are among the best releases.

Jack Cade continues his activity on behalf of members of the Phonograph Operators Association membership by securing favorable newspaper publicity regularly and also by immediately refuting all detrimental news about the industry. He has gained the confidence of newspaper editors and was personally successful in dissuading a large publication from running a story which would have presented the business in an unpleasant manner.

Raymond Rosen & Co. were this month appointed distributors for the long-life Pfanstiehl needles which are being rapidly placed by operator salesman Nelson Verbit, who has gained the confidence and friendship of all operators.

The Automatic Phonograph and Its Music in a World at War

by
E. C. STEFFENS, Vice-President & General Sales Manager
Permo Products Corporation, Chicago, Illinois

As we learned military strategy and technique during World War I, so we should also have learned the important part music plays during a time of War in the lives of our armed forces as well as in the lives of those people who remain at home.

What puts pep and spring into marching feet at a parade? IT'S THE BAND.

The response to appeals for volunteers and sale of War Bonds is much greater under the influence of lively, patriotic music than without it. The answer? PROPER MUSIC STIRS UP AND ACTIVATES INHERENT PATRIOTISM THAT MAY OTHERWISE REMAIN DORMANT!

Hundreds of men in the Coin Phonograph Industry saw service during the first World War. These men will remember how music, which then was not so conveniently available, kept up the morale of the boys under any and all circumstances.

Few, if any, automatic phonographs were available to the forces in those days. Instead, the old manually-operated phonographs and portables were used. Many were the portables that were taken almost into the front line trenches where they gave forth music, and even though crude, it sounded like a symphony to the boys who hungered for anything to take their minds off the terrific and important job at hand.

Those who were sick or wounded and spent days, weeks, months, and sometimes years in the hospitals appreciate fully the benefit of phonographs in helping them pass the hours of pain and discouragement. This music was truly a Godsend to them.

I know of a ukelele which was carried into the front line trenches in France on the back of a marine to furnish music to its owner and his buddies when they had a few minutes of leisure. This little "uke" came out with two wound stripes as evidence of its service in action.

Experience in those days with the old manually-operated phonographs was at least indirectly responsible for one of the inventions which later became a boon to all coin operated operators.

The constant changing of needles on these old phonographs germinated the idea of a long-life phonograph needle in the mind of Art Olsen, personally known to hundreds in the Industry as the President of Permo Products Corporation, who then was a fighting marine in France. From that idea the Permo Point needle was conceived as the original long-life needle for coin phonographs.

As a result of wounds received in the Battle of Soissons, July 18, 1918, he was confined to hospitals in France and the States for over five years. During these years a phonograph was Art's principal source of entertainment. Therefore, he like thousands of others, is appreciative of how much such music can mean to those who may be caught in similar circumstances in World War II.

Just as time and experience have improved War-making equipment so has the phonograph been improved, and it is, therefore, much more capable of bringing greater entertainment and pleasure to those boys who enjoy it so thoroughly.

The PX's (Post Exchanges), Service Clubs, or Day Rooms, commonly known during the last War as Recreation Centers or Canteens, in every post should have an automatic phonograph, and it is almost a "must" in every U.S.O. center.

Induction centers, where the boys must sometimes wait for hours and frequently a whole day without anything to do, should have a phonograph for entertainment. There is no more important time to keep up the spirits, which can be done with music, than when the boys are on the threshold of their service in the armed forces.

Reference to the automatic phonographs herein applies to coin-operated types, but if such machine is actually operated by coins in any of these locations, the intake thereof should go to the benefit of the men and not to an operator. To make the boys pay for music in such centers to the profit of an individual or individuals is, we believe, unpatriotic.

The need for phonographs in these locations has not been entirely overlooked, but there is still much that can be done in this direction, as many of these posts could use from 25 to 30 phonographs to great advantage.

Last year, one of the large automatic phonograph manufacturers donated some sixty phonographs for recreation centers. At the same time, Permo Products donated a supply of needles. As evidence of how this entertainment will bring contentment and well-being, we quote a letter received from Brigadier General F. H. Osborn, Chief of the Morale Branch:

"This will acknowledge receipt of the package of 300 Standard Permo Point Needles. It is very gratifying to learn of your gift of this material for the use of the men in the armed forces in the outlying bases. The gift will contribute substantially to the contentment and well-being of the men serving our country in isolated locations. I am sure these men will be deeply appreciative.

The Servicemen's Recreation Center in Chicago, one of the largest in the country, has three or four automatic phonographs in constant operation. Permo supplies gratis the needles for these machines, as well as for the one in the recreation center at Chanute Field at Rantoul.

Phonograph operators can do much in such a program. For example, in those cities where recreation centers are maintained, one operator could, each week, take over the supplying of records and servicing gratis for one phonograph. This would assure the boys of uninterrupted entertain-ment with the best music. The cost to each operator would be small but the benefit would be great.

The phonograph operating industry could and should make sure that each such recreation center or hospital has a phonograph with a constant supply of playable records.

Automatic phonographs also play an important part in the home front. Outstanding in this was the campaign which placed the record "Any Bonds Today" on every phonograph in the nation during October of last year. It is practically impossible to find a machine now which has less than two or three patriotic numbers on the program.

In defense areas the demand for phonographs has been great. Not alone because money is plentiful, but because the men and women are working at top speed and they find music, as furnished by the automatic phonograph, a great relaxer and entertainer.

Many large industrial plants broadcast music over their loud-speakers throughout the plant at regular intervals during the day. It has been proved that this practice speeds up production as well as eliminating the strain and monotony for the worker. Permo Products has been doing that for the past year with excellent results, having a musical period during both morning and

Ordinarily you do not hear a school teacher arguing for the benefits of the "juke box," as they put it, for the high school boys, but this is the reasoning used by a school teacher with whom I chanced to talk a few days ago:

"Were it not for the 'juke box,' the average high school boy would be out of luck in his competition for dates among his girl friends since many of his classmates have left school to take jobs in defense plants which provide them with sufficient money to take their 'dates' dancing to the music of an orchestra. Without the music of the best bands on the phonographs available for dancing to the high school boy and his girl friend, he would be greatly handicapped in the entertainment he could provide as against the boy with money coming in from his defense job.

Some interesting and unusual incidents arise from playing recordings of our National Anthem. Several wired music studios discontinued the use of these records, because location owners claimed that it led to heated arguments. Here's how it workeda patron would stand a few times when the National Anthem was played but eventually resented the continuance, when someone who may not have been there when it was played before, demanded that the customer stand (not knowing that he had done so many times before). Such is an example of the effect phonograph music plays on the public at large.

The government fully appreciates the need of music for its fighting men as evidenced by the fact that they requested instrument dealers to "earmark" all Grade A instruments, which are no longer manufac-tured, for sale to the government.

The phonograph owners and operators throughout the country have been doing some splendid work in the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. The Cleveland, Ohio, Phonograph Operators' Association has been doing a remarkable job, and several months ago their members and servicemen had purchased over a quarter of a million dollars in War Bonds and Stamps. Other cities where phonograph associations have been doing outstanding work in that direction are Detroit, Philadelphia, Oakland, Phonograph operators are perhaps into, or entering, the most lucrative period of their operations, notwithstanding new and higher taxes and operating costs. As an industry, it will be contributing thousands of dollars to various forms of relief and servicemen's entertainment. In addition, everyone in the industry, individually and collectively, should and will do everything possible to provide these deserving boys in the ranks with the automatic phonograph music which will bring them pleasure and entertainment during their leisure hours.

Every play on a coin phonograph in comlocations should increase the amount of War Bonds purchased by the Industry; and each Bond brings our victorious end one step nearer so-KEEP 'EM PLAYING!

Capitol Starts Big

HOLLYWOOD.—Record sales hit 17,-000 platters in the first two weeks following the first release on July 1st by Capitol

Heading the list was Strip Polka, a nov-elty number recorded by Johnny Mercer, who wrote it and is also vice-prexy of Capitol. In second spot was another coin machine favorite, Cow Cow Boogie, by Freddie Slack and featuring the vocals of Ella Mae Morse. First tune accounted for a neat 3400 sales and second ditty tailed with about 300 less.

Capitol expects to issue new releases every two weeks.

Reeder Moves In Glendale

GLENDALE, Calif.—Robert E. Reeder, owner and operator of Coin Machine Service, announces that his repair service is now located at new and larger quarters at 1070 Thompson Street in Glendale.

Reeder started his service to the industry about a year ago. Through consistent Revew advertising he has built up a steady clientele until it was necessary for the move to larger quarters. Reeder has won an enviable reputation in the industry for turning out superior work and his slogan of "Once a Customer—Always a Customer" has won him a neat volume of business.

THE REVIEW wishes Reeder well in his new and larger quarters.

Dim-Out Restrictions Issued

SAN FRANCISCO - Sidney Mackin, managing director of the Amusement Merchants Association, Inc., issued a bulletin on August 5th to all locations in the Bay area acquainting them with the provisions of the semi-blackout order issued by Lieutenant General John L. DeWitt which goes into effect for the entire Pacific Coast area on August 20th.

Mackin sent each location the requirements and regulations and a map showing the areas affected.

Cost was not figured on the hospital charge but on the theater booking at the New York Paramount which was necessarily canceled.

Incomes To 90 Billions

NEW YORK .- Reports issued by The Conference Board show that the nation's income for 1941 reached an all-time high estimated at $90,000,000,000, 12 billions more than during the preceding year and 10 billions greater than in 1929, the previous peak year.

Last year salary and wage payments represented 67.5 per cent of the national income, compared with 64.9 per cent in 1940.

A LETTER FROM HOME...

FOR AUGUST 1942

The 1942 SYMPHONOLA America's Finest Musical Instrument

What a grand thrill it is ... when you're thousands of miles away from home ... right in the thick of the fight ... and a letter pops along from someone who cares. It's the greatest "lift" a man in the service can get.

We like to think that Mape Music Service is in the same category. It is true that we haven't enough new equipment to serve our operator-customers as in years gone by but we intend to "stick to our guns" and help our men on the home front ... our operator-customers ... make the very maximum from the equipment they have purchased from us in the past.

For the duration Mape Music Service will be ALL-INCLU-SIVE. Whether it is new or used equipment you need, if you have a route for sale, if you want to buy a route, if you want parts only, or if you want to exchange certain pieces of equipment for something else, we fit right into the picture and we are happy to place the resources of our organization at your disposal.

We hope you'll take advantage of our offer of assistance and service. We look forward to serving you at any of our offices.

More than ever today, because of the terrific stresses and strains of speeded-up production for war and the mounting tempo of daily tasks, folks just like you and me need relaxation...need the entertainment and beauty that music can bring.

Every man of you in the Automatic Music Industry has displayed exceptional skill and ingenuity in keeping equipment in good playing order—and you can't let down now—or ever. Packard is doing, and will continue to do, all that is possible in making available to you service information on equipment you own, as well as supplying information on equipment you can buy or wish to sell.

As you know, we at Packard are producing 100% for the war and expect to do so until the war is won. But we haven't forgotten music . . . or our many, many good friends who are a vital part of this giant industry. After the war, Packard will be back with everything you'd expect, and maybe much more. And you can bank on it that Packard equipment will again build better business for every music man.

Right now, all of us have a bigger job . . . and we are confident that every one of us will do everything within his or her power to make that job a success—spelled in the biggest capital letters the world has ever seen.
